A RELIC OF SLAVERY. Mr. SUMNER (Rep., Mass.) introduced a bill to repeal the act to prevent the importation of certain persons into States where, by the laws thereof, their importation is prohibited. This bill, he said, was designed to repeal the only law relating to Slavery remaining upon the stat-ute books of the United States, and as it had been favoraply reported by the Judiciary Committee and passed by the Senate at the last session, he hoped there would be no opposition to its immediate consideration.

A PEESONAL EXPLANATION.

Mr. SPRAGUE (Rep., R. I.) then rose and said: Mr. President—I rise to a personal explanation. IThe people of the United States will not suspend their judgment on newspaper articles bearing on me, to my disadvantage. The telegraphic summary of my recent speech, as well as the report in The Globe, has some material errors. They may be assured that my words and courage do not rest on vine, or whisky, or any other stimulant, but upon knowledge of the shrinkage of property, and the loss of virtue going on around me. My great anxiety is to effect a cure now. The remedy is now accessible; a year hence it may be beyond our reach. My leading idea is to correct a condition of things of which the following is perhaps an aggravated case, but it is a substantial illustration of the condition throughout the country; A man in Washington has $20,000 loaned out in sums of $50 to the poor at 10 per cent per month, and secured by chattel mortgage. When the victim is exhausted demand for payment is made, and in default of payment the property is seld for one fourth to one-half its value. The plan to correct thas its opinice within the reach of very man of energy and industry capital at a low rate of interest, upon which he can labor and make profits. This is the one I have in yiew, and is substantially the one in use in England, Belgnum, Holland, and France, the host prosperous States of modern times; and to exclude the plan we have adopted, which is best exhibited by States like Spain, Mexico, and the South American States, I call your attention to a State in the American Union (Kentucky) which has adopted a system similar to that I have advocated. Kentucky, it may be remembered, it the most prosperous farming State in the country, in contradistine-thou to the method now in use of keeping the same out of the reach of the people, and in local ceived, but I shall send my speeches into every city and town, and on them I stand.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD LITIGATION. A REPORT FROM RECEIVER TWEED—THE EXAMI-NATION OF ASSISTANT-TREASURER TUTTLE CONTINUED—LIST OF PACIFIC STOCKHOLDERS.

The case of James Fisk, jr., against the Union Pacific Railroad Company, was continued on Saturday in the Supreme Court, before Judge Barnard. Mr. Dudley Field read a brief report from Mr. Tweed, setting forth that he had opened the safe and found a number of books of the Company and some books of the Credit Mobilier, and that it had been stated to him by the officer of the and that it had been stated to him by the officer of the Company that it contained bonds, coupons, and other property of the Company to the value of hundreds of thousands of dollars, and that he was now engaged in taking an inventory of the same. It was suggested, in view of this report, that the case be adjourned to Monday when the other matters were to adjourned to Monday when the other matters were to come up. Mr. Tracy asserted that the Receiver's report was essentially false, the bonds mentioned being cancelled bonds and coupons, or bonds unissued and valueless, while the books had no pecuniary value. The inner safe, not yet opened, contained some deposits, but they belonged to individual directors. Mr. Tracy proposed to put in an affidavit contradicting the report, but Judge farmard said he knew of no such practice in this District. Mr. Tracy insisted that the report was made for effect, and reiterated his previous remark that it was essentially untrace. He knew, and so did others, why a report was made as to their being hundreds of thousands of dollars' wouth of property in the safe. It was for the purpose of being spread in the newspapers; as not only the press of this city would publish that statement, but it would be copied into every newspaper in the language. He wished to examine Mr. Tweed upon the stand, because at a proper time he would put in a counter affidavit.

Mr. Stoughton said that Mr. Tracy and others had asserted, some days ago, that there was nothing in the safe except an old almanae and 12 shillings in money. Mr. Tutle, the Assistant Treasurer of the Company, had testified, on the contrary, that it contained bonds, books, and papers of great value; and the absence of the Receiver, was due, as already stated, merely to the fact that he was engaged in taking an inventory of all these articles.

Mr. Tracy insisted that he must have the Receiver and that it had been stated to had by the oncer of the Company that it contained bonds, coupons, and other ne was engaged in taking an inventory of an these afficles.

Mr. Tracy insisted that he must have the Receiver upon the stand for cross-examination, as the report which had just been read was calculated to injure the Company and its officers; but after some further discussion the case was adjourned to Monday, at 10 a. m.

The examination of the Assistant Treasurer, Charles Tuttle, was also continued at tedious length on Saturday, before the Referee, A. A. Redfield, at the Company's office, No. 20 Nassan-st.

He corrected his testimony with respect to Mr. Reed being the Chief Engineer, he should have stated that Gen. Dedge is the Chief Engineer,

On cross-examination by Mr. McFarland, the witness testified:

I have been assistant Treasurer about four years; my duties were to receive and to pay the accounts of the Company; it is no part of my duty to know what property the Company has from time to time, except as far as relates to the papers in my custody; I have nothing to do with the making or execution of contracts, those are made by the Board of Directors, it is not my dust to examine the accounts in respect to which

At the Tombs Police Court, yesterday, before Justice Dowling, were taken two young men, who gave the names of John S. Brogan and Charles Martin, on a charge of theft. It is alleged that on Saturday night, while Mr. John C. Faulkner of No. 224 Bowery was on his way home, when in the Bowery, near Canal-st., he was accosted by the prisoners and two confederates, who asked him to treat them to liquor. On his refusing, they seized hold of Mr. Faulkner, ran him up the street a short distance, and managed to steal his watch, valued at $150 and a small amount of money. The prisoners were locked up to answer.... "Fatty" Walsh, a Sixth Ward rough, proprietor of a Broadway gaming house, on Saturday assaulted one Michael Radigan of No. 45 Cherry-st., for having refused a pay a gaming debt due him. "Patty" was held to ball... Abraham David, alias "Big Michael," on Saturday went into the store of Henry Rancker, No. 65 Duane-st., and attempted to carry off a bundle of penknives. The duty was then raised to 100 percent, on the ground that the Bitters were in reality an alcoholic drink or stimulant. This increased duty was paid under protest, and the total amount paid, about $1,000, is now sought to be recovered in a suit in the U. S. District Court, on the ground that the increase was unauthorized by law. Conbe recovered in a suit in the U. S. District Court, on the ground that the increase was unauthorized by law. Considerable testimony was taken, pro and con, as to whether the Bitters are principally used as a beverage or a medicine. It was conclusively shown that the Bitters cannot be drank pure, as a beverage, although they are used in many bar-rooms in mixing drinks. Several witnesses testified that the Bitters were of great medicinal value in certain stomach complaints. Other witnesses testified that the Bitters were unknown to the Materia Medica, and were not prescribed by the generality of physicians. Case still on.

TRENTON—On Friday afternoon forty convicts employed in the came slop at the New-Jersey State Prison, Treaton, refused to work, on the ground that they were maitreated by their keepers, Thompson & Clearman. Mr. Hennion, the new Warden of the prison, at once closed the doors of the shop, and placing guards, hurried through the other departments of the prison, sending the other convicts to their ceils under pretense that there was no material for them to work on. He then assembled his force, armed them thoroughly, and returned to the came shop. Here the revolters were as defiant as before, and positively refused to work under their keepers. On being ordered to return to their cells, they slowly filed off, and subsequently 25 of them returned to work. The other 15, refusing to come to terms, were consigned to dungeons. Mr. Hennion expresses his intention of investigating—the cause of the revolt, and says that if he finds that any of the keepers have been guilty of cruelty to convicts he will discharge them.

A CARD.

CINCINNATI, O., March 1, 1869.

TO THE CITIZENS OF NEW-YORK AND VICINITY.—Learning that our fellow-citizen, Dr. JAS. C. KERR, is about introducing his medicine to the citizens of New-York, the undersigned, residents of Clucinust, take this method of giving our testimony in favor of the excellencies of his "Great System Renovator." We are not in the lashit of giving or names to patent medicine wenders, but in our judgment the medicine of which Dr. Jas. C. Kerr is proprietor is an exception to all general rules on this subject. The cures it has performed in our families, and within our personal observation, justifies as in giving it our strong and unqualified indorments. It is indeed a real System Renovator, doing its work pleasantly and surely through the medium of the blood, and that without the debilitating effects that as often accompany the use of medicine. We heartly recommend this remoty to the public as one of unusual excellence, passessing tome and alternative effects, and accomplishing remarks.
